Welcome to Wabash County ... America's Heartland!

Wabash County is a leading business center in North Central Indiana. A highly skilled labor force produces everything from woodworking machinery to printed and embroidered sportswear. Service industries include industrial machining, plating, information technology, heat treating, sand blasting, welding and rigging, construction and building maintenance, and aluminum siding.

Wabash County is traversed by the new U.S. 24 Hoosier Heartland Industrial Corridor Highway, providing a four-lane route to I-69 to the east and west to US 31. Norfolk Southern provides both north/south and east/west rail lines. All major motor freight carriers serve the Wabash County community.

Outstanding quality of life, several industrial parks, an agricultural business park, tax and other incentives, and a work ethic and loyalty born of more than seven generations of excellence help make Wabash County the ideal location for your business.
